Scentsations - Oh so Lovable

of fragrance; she's had a string $11

Nail polish with a bit of sparkle or an unexpected colour makes life more interesting. Here are three we're rather taken with.

CND Effects
in Teal Sparkle,
$29.95.

CND Colour
in Urban Oasis,
$25.95.

Lancôme Le Mini
Vernis in Disco
Silver, $31.

SOFT
In theory, going soft on hair. Salt is the enemy. Colour is the friend. At the end of summer, it works with natural colour pigments and botanical proteins, and is completely peroxide-, ammonia- and fragrance-free. There are nine colours and a clear treatment. Shine is a given. From Sebastian salons.

CELEBRITY SCENTS

Celebs and well-known designers can't help themselves when it comes to fragrance creation. Putting your name on a bottle means you've really made it. Here's the latest round-up.

1. SOO HOLLYWOOD
If you've ever wondered if Hollywood glamour has a certain smell, this is it. Michael Kors Very Hollywood isn't all about red carpet glam though. It's a sparkler, with jasmine, mandarin, amber and gardenia making it a go-anywhere type scent. $110 for 50ml.

2. LA WOMAN
J-Lo is no stranger to the business of fragrance; she's had a string of hits already. L.A. Glow is her latest offering, a formula of plum, cherry, peony, jasmine, amber and musk. $69 for 100ml.

3. GOOD FIT
Herve Leger (he of the legendary bandage dress so many of the 80s supermodels took a shine to) has teamed up with Avon for an eponymous fragrance. It's sexy and confident with magnolia, pink grapefruit, orange flower, cypress and vanilla. $59.99 for 50ml.

4. BLUE ANGEL
Keep Thierry Mugler's popular fragrance Angel close at hand with the Swarovski-studded ring, which holds a solid perfume. $115 for a limited time.

SOFT CELL

In theory, a summer's worth of relaxed beach-going sounds idyllic. Except it's a nightmare on hair. Salt water, sunlight and chlorine are sworn enemies. A Sebastian Cellophanes protein colour in-salon can work wonders at the tail-end of summer. A great colour refresher, it works with natural colour pigments and botanical proteins, and is completely peroxide-, ammonia- and fragrance-free. There are nine colours and a clear treatment. It also comes with a Colour Shine Complex, so outrageous shine is a given. It's payback time for hair. From Sebastian salons.

Positively radiant

La Mer strikes again with another seriously good skincare product. The Radiant Serum promises to be a fast-track to radiant, light-reflecting skin that's hydrated and smooth. Pore-minimising ingredients mean skin looks a million bucks - and all for $565.

Going straight

For the confident home hairdresser, Str8 Forward Permanent Keratin Hair Straightening Kit, $39.95, is a DIY Japanese-style system to take you from frizz to straight in the comfort of your own bathroom.

This is several steps up from running a semi-permanent colour through your hair but, if you feel you're able to graduate to home straightening, this has all you need for the job.
